

Website Privacy Policy

We fully respect the privacy of any users of our website. In accordance with the Data Protection Acts (1998) we endeavour at all times to ensure your privacy is not affected as a result of using this site.

Our Privacy Policy may change in order to provide the best possible service to our site visitors so we recommend that you read the policy statement regularly when visiting our website.

All information supplied via our website will be used for no other purpose than to respond to your enquiry or suggestion.

We do collect technical information automatically when you connect to our site, which is not personally identifiable. An example of this would include the amount of times a user has logged onto our website or the domain name of the website from which you linked to our site.

We do not pass on any information we may hold to any third parties unless instructed to do so.
